

Newman Heads Citrus Section Of State Farm Bureau

NAME OFFICERS AT MEETING IN GATEWAY CITY

Carl V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit company and chairman of the citrus department of the Orange County Farm Bureau, today assumed his new duties as president of the inter-county citrus growers' department of the California Farm Bureau federation, following his unanimous election in San Bernardino, yesterday.

Election of Newman to his new post, in which he will pilot the citrus departments of farm bureaus in every citrus producing region in California, occurred at a session held in the Elks club, San Bernardino, yesterday, in connection with the National Orange show.

He succeeds Frank Daybell, of Porterville, Peter Sharpless, of Whittier, was elected vice president.

Orange county again will be honored in the selection of the organization's new secretary. According to custom, this office is filled from the same county in which the president resides and is an appointive position.

Over 50 Orange county citrus growers helped to make up the gathering of 400 which attended the San Bernardino session. Corona was selected as the location of the next meeting, which was set tentatively for June 18 and 19.

Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, of Orange, addressed the gathering, outlining the surveys on cost of production in the citrus industry here, the figures being based on records kept by 75 co-operating growers.

E. B. COLLIER, FORMER CITY MANAGER, DIES

With his mother and foster father some 40 years ago, the family locating at Tustin. It was in this vicinity that he first became actively interested in citrus, an industry in which he attained the reputation of being one of the best packing house managers engaged in this line of endeavor.

It was recalled today by friends that Collier's first work here was in picking and packing citrus fruits at a packing house at Aliso station, on the Santa Fe line immediately south of Santa Ana, the house of operation being operated by Charles Willard, also of Tustin. That period was before creation of the citrus associations of today.

Later he became identified with the Briggs-Spence Fruit company and was employed by that firm for many years as manager of packing houses at La Canada, Hollywood, Monrovia, and San Dimas. His success in the management of packing houses led to his location at Corona, in Riverside county, where he established a packing house of his own, and where he operated successfully for a number of years.

During his residence at Corona he was honored by election to the city council, to the mayorality, and to the state assembly as representative from Riverside county. He served one term in the assembly, with distinction for himself and honor to his constituents. He also was for a time a member of the state horticultural committee.

Twelve years ago he was chosen manager of the Central Lemon association at Villa Park, the largest lemon packing concern in the world and here he again was successful in his administration of a business involving the successful handling and disposition of the crops of several hundreds of acres of lemon orchards.

It was during this period that he moved to Santa Ana to make his home and became interested in municipal affairs. He was chosen by the city council to fill the vacancy on the council created by the death of Claude Killen, representative of the first precinct, and he took his seat on the council on February 4, 1924. He declined to stand for election to the council in April, 1927. His knowledge of business administration and his familiarity with municipal administration through his service on the councils here and at Corona made him a wise councillor in city affairs, and when the city council decided to introduce management of city affairs under a director, he was chosen for the position. While the office generally has been referred to as city manager, it did not carry the authority given a manager by law or by special charter. Special duties were assigned to the manager. Collier worked out a complete system of administration of the departments, harmonizing all interests and creating a situation that resulted in efficient service and in reduced city costs. He resigned as manager of the Central Lemon association in order to take the city position.

Personal interests in the Red Fox Orchards association, and the influence of friends concerned with success of the organization, influenced Collier to resign his city position on June 1, 1928, to take office of manager of the citrus organization.

Collier was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church, of the Knights of Columbus and the Santa Ana lodge of Elks. He also was a director in several organizations, among them the Santa Ana Country club. He was a member and past president of the Rotary Club at Orange.

Collier had been successful in personal investments and is said to have left a good estate.

MONOTONY IN DIET IS UNDESIRABLE

Eat Wide Variety of Foods Sweetened for Enjoyment

If a diet expert could visit every home in the United States and combine all the diet mistakes into one phrase, he would doubtless say, "too monotonous." Food authorities are complaining that the richest nation of the world is sacrificing both health and enjoyment by eating monotonous, unappetizing foods.

There is a remedy that, with a little thought, can be applied in every home. Make a study of all the varied healthful foods, being sure to include milk, eggs, cereals, vegetables, fruits and meats. Serve varied foods in the regular diet, and learn to use the right amount of sugar to make the various dishes tasteful and delicious.

It is simply impossible to keep well without eating the varied foods that contain all the health elements. It is almost impossible to eat these foods unless they are pleasing to the taste. Sugar, in addition to being a wonderful food, is nature's perfect flavor.

Make delicious milk-shakes with milk, sugar and flavoring. If you want your family to like eggs, learn how quick and easy it is to make healthful egg-nogs. Remember the rule of one cooked and one raw fruit and vegetable a day properly sweetened, and cakes, cookies, and ice cream for dessert. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Mike George, of Placentia, who failed recently to win a superior court tilt in which he sought $245 damages from A. Shariff for an alleged attack with a pop bottle, brought two more damage suits into court today in which he is asking $40,000 damages from Joe Simon and John Nera, whom he charged with threatening his life and damaging his reputation.

George requested $30,000 damages from Simon in a complaint which declared that, in the presence of Thomas Pickering, Jesse Buckles and a large crowd of other people, Simon had made remarks calculated to injure his reputation. According to the complaint, Simon said on February 11 that George had been run out of

Los Angeles and that he had a bad name there. This asserted statement, which George declared to be absolutely untrue, was intended to mean that he was a criminal, the complaint alleged.

ASKS $40,000 FOR ALLEGED ATTACK ON CHARACTER AND ASSERTED THREAT ON LIFE

Los Angeles and that he had a bad name there. This asserted statement, which George declared to be absolutely untrue, was intended to mean that he was a criminal, the complaint alleged.

The second suit brought by George named both Simon and Nera and depicted an alleged wild scene in a Placentia pool room, which is said to have culminated by Nera and Simon attacking him and chasing him out into an alley, where he believes, he said, they would have tried to kill him had they not been prevented from doing so by "certain other citizens."

George accused Simon and Nera of threatening to take his life in this encounter. In this case he is asking $10,000 damages. George is represented in both cases by C. N. Mozley, Santa Ana attorney.

3 OHIO CONVICTS RETURNED TO CELLS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 20.—(UP)—Whipped into submission by the intense cold, three of the five convicts who broke out of the state penitentiary at dawn yesterday, were captured last night and early today.

Among them was the notorious Pat McDermott, the red headed trigger-man who ambushed and killed Don Mellett, crusading editor of the Canton Daily News, two and a half years ago.

The others were Mike Jacko, Cleveland lifer, who was trapped with McDermott, and John Russo, sent up from Cleveland for robbery.

Russo was captured at Shadysville, near here, after attempting to raid the commissary of the Hartman Dairy farm.

The truck, which was one of four used to convey Mr. Coolidge's personal effects to the Coolidge home in Northampton, Mass., was parked in front of a diner at the West Springfield end of Memorial bridge. The injured autoist was unidentified.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—(UP)—Phillip Chancellor's quest for a "reticulated python," said to be the rarest and largest snake in existence, started today when the young millionaire sailed for Borneo and the East Indies.

A year ago Chancellor was a cub reporter on a Chicago paper. Then he inherited the $6,000,000 estate of his grandfather and conceived the idea of searching for the reptile.

Norton Stuart, Santa Barbara naturalist, accompanied Chancellor. He also wishes to gather "sea serpents" in tropical waters.

WALSH REPORT ON OIL CONTRACT HIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(UP)—The Walsh report censuring the interior and justice departments for their conduct in connection with the renewal and subsequent cancellation of Harry F. Sinclair's contract for Salt Creek, Wyo., royalty oil was attacked as "a partisan report" today by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana.

"So far as the facts are stated, they are substantially correct but many other facts are glossed over or omitted entirely," Robinson said in a speech to the senate. "The conclusions drawn are in my judgment thoroughly erroneous."

COUNTY PLANS BUILDING NEW COURT HOUSE

ary 28. The other parcel is controlled by a holding company of 28 men, they said.

After considering the offer, the supervisors informed the group that the county is facing the probability of building a new courthouse in the near future, as well as the flood control project and road construction projects which undoubtedly must be taken care of. The board did not feel that at this time it was in a position to consider the offer inasmuch as these other matters must be taken care of first.

It has been pointed out in the past that actual purchase of the grounds, while not an item of great expense, probably would be followed by the necessity of expending several hundred thousand dollars for construction of fair buildings if the county owned the grounds.

Evidence that the courthouse situation must be taken care of without delay has been seen recently in the fact that several offices have been rearranged in order to accommodate efficiently the growing business that is handled. It has been found necessary to secure a new location for the farm bureau in other quarters. It is agreed, however, that this arrangement will not be able to take care of the situation for an extended length of time and that it has been put into effect because some immediate relief was needed.

The flood control project is rapidly approaching a point where it is expected that Paul Bailey, flood control engineer, will place before the supervisors the results of his investigations during more than a year to study on Orange county streams. This project alone may call for an expenditure of $10,000,000. It is expected that the board of supervisors will receive Bailey's report in the not far distant future.

now manager of the Irvine Valencia Growers, in a brief talk to the growers at their meeting, declared that recent years had demonstrated very clearly that citrus fruits must be protected by heater systems.

He asserted that in his 16 years as secretary and manager of the McPherson association damaging frosts had occurred on an average of three out of five years, and he pointed out that heater systems should be installed if the growers expect to keep their fruit up to standard and to continue to make money.

You would not invest in a new house the money you have invested in your orange grove and not insure it, and this is just what you are doing when you fail to install heater plants," Post told his auditors. Post predicted difficulty in disposing of the large crop of valencias this county will have this year, and he warned against attempt to ship frozen fruit, stressing the point that shipment of much damaged fruit would result in lower prices and less sales in later years because of loss of reputation of California oranges.

SANTA ANA'S CANTANDO CLUB,
UNDER LEON ECKLES, SCORES
SUCCESS IN SECOND CONCERT

By RUTH ANDREWS

Members of the Santa Ana Cantando club today were receiving congratulations from friends following presentation of the second concert of their winter series, last night, in the Yost Spurgeon theater, under Leon Eckles' well-poised, capable direction.

The Cantando club, one of Santa Ana's more important musical organizations, in accordance with its usual custom, was accompanied throughout by Miss Ruth Armstrong, whose satisfying work of unvarying quality has contributed much to excellent results achieved by the male choral ensemble.

The club was assisted by Sally Lee Soales, whose lyric soprano has made her a popular favorite, and the Sierra quintet, of Los Angeles, which, pleasingly accompanied by Gladys Garwick, was heard in two contrasting song groups and accorded a warm reception.

Clarity of diction, restraint, excellence in portrayal of pianissimo passage-work and well preserved unity were admirable and noteworthy qualities displayed by the club director, Mr. Eckles.

Typically Masculine

Typically masculine strength, solidity and power of Cadman's "Builder" was a well-chosen opening number by the club. Gaiety and "Youth" was delightfully harmonized, lower-pitched tones of the male chorus well contrasted with Mrs. Soales' crystalline soprano obbligato, as was the sterner masculine background with her picturesque femininity.

Choral voices were well-blended in unison in light-hearted gaiety of "The Galway Piper," arranged by Davidson from a typical Irish folk-tune. Fluent precision of the tinkling, mechanical accompaniment was especially interesting.

Such warm response was accorded by the audience that the club was forced to repeat this selection.

The Sierra quintet followed, in a classic group, opening with sacred solemnity of Schubert's "Gretchen Is Jehovah" (Omnipotence), succeeded by Bach's "Jesu, Christ, Treasures," similar in mood of classic gravity, without accompaniment. More spirited animation of Morley's "Now Is the Month of Maying" contrasted happily, its delicately rendered dimenuendo effective, well-liked. As an encore, the quintet offered an old favorite, "The Little Sandman" (Brahms) its restful peace and sheer melody never failing to please. Miss Garwick, accompanist of the quintet, received roses in tribute to her pleasing work.

The evening's feature number, William Lester's dramatically descriptive "Ballad of the Golden Sun," was well-sustained, its emotional variety again admirably displaying the degree of perfection attained by the organization, also contrast of male voices with effectively introduced solo work of Mrs. Soales, whose final solo was marked with much delicacy. Triumphant conclusion of the number brought much applause, also floral tributes for both Mrs. Soales and Miss Armstrong.

Courageous Challenge

Gravity of De Rille's "Martyrs of the Arena" carried courageous challenge, well adapted to male voices, this selection's wide emotional range voicing both dignity and well-worked-up crescendo of triumph, the Cantando quartet, with A. J. Garaway, L. F. Wilde, H. Runnels and W. C. Vieira being heard with choral background.

The familiar Burleigh Negro spiritual, "Heaven, Heav'n," was a special favorite. Ardent tenderness of MacDowell's "Thy Beaming Eyes" preceded the widely interesting "Shadow March" (Proehroe), a brief bit of suggestive imagery, its hushed restraint most effective.

In its second popular group, the Sierra quintet scored a decided hit, the sentimental appeal of "Plantation" (Steiner), "Nola" (Arndt), "Dinah" (Akst) and "Japanese" especially well-received by the audience.

The club's group offered fine contrast, the familiar, vigorously climaxed "Hunting Song" from "Robin Hood" (De Koven) portraying the chorus in a typically robust and virile phase. Outstanding was "Dawn" (Curran), an ever-colorful conclusion, its glowing dramatic crescendo and shifting tonal nuances well-portrayed by the choral ensemble.

Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service

THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel, terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

PLANE BUILDING KITS AVAILABLE AT LOW COST

Materials for building the scientific glider and the other expert models to be described by The Register must be carefully selected. The glider of which Merrill Hamburg, secretary of the Airplane Model League of America, tells you, is made entirely of balsa wood, and for best results it must be made of the finest grade obtainable.

So The Register, sponsor of the League in this territory, has arranged with League headquarters to supply you builders, at nominal cost, with a specially designed kit of materials. And notice this—the kit including the materials for the glider also contains everything you'll need to build the Tichenor Midget, a stunting little all-wood pusher you'll read about next.

To get the kit just take 65 cents to Henry's Cycle shop, 427 West Fourth street, where The Register and 20-30 club have arranged to have them handled at cost. And when you open it, what a lot you will find in it! There's a balsa wing and a balsa elevator for the glider, both of them ready-bent to the right dihedral angle. There's a balsa fuselage, flat balsa for the fin, and ambroid glue to fasten fin and fuselage together. And there are rubber bands to hold the wing and elevator to the fuselage, as well as a heavy wire hook to use in case you want to "tail" the glider. Then there will be all the materials for the Tichenor Midget as well, from propeller to rubber motor—watch The Register for instructions how to build it. And in addition to the materials, there'll be an A. M. L. A. Manual—the special booklet by Mr. Hamburg telling all the fundamentals of model building.

There's no better way to start learning the fundamentals of aeronautics than to get this kit and build the glider, following it with pusher later. And there's no better fun!

OBLIGATIONS OF ROTARY TOPIC OF CLUB TALK

William Lippman, of St. Louis, for 16 years a Rotarian, was the speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Rotary club. He was present as the guest of the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, to speak on "What Makes the Wheels of Rotary Go?" It is men's interest in one another—the impulse of brotherly love, which, according to the speaker, builds up great organizations like Rotary, in which men can help not only their fellow-members, but many others outside their club relationship. And man is insurably helpful—his sympathy is aroused by human need and his better self is eager to respond to the call for aid, he said.

"The best Rotarian I ever met had never heard of Rotary," said Lippman, as he told of meeting men in various parts of the world who have sensed the obligation to render aid where it is needed. The speaker now is connected with the Presbyterian board of national missions as director of financial campaigns. He stated that during his recent years of travel in this work he had visited 98 Rotary clubs in 25 different states and his visit to Santa Ana was his 161st Rotary meeting away from his own club. Everywhere he goes, he said, he finds the same spirit of unselfish devotion to high ideals of service as the characteristic of Rotary and other service clubs.

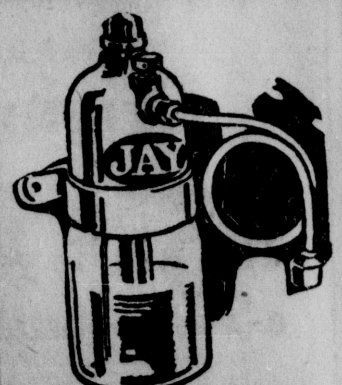

Numerous visitors from distant cities were present at the meeting. Arch E. Vallier, of Columbus, Neb.; Darwin Moore, of Winsted, Conn.; Charles H. Edmonds, of Springfield, Ill.; Phil Messinger, of Maywood, Ill., and Dr. Frank Sampson, of Creston, Ia., were among the visitors.

Announcement was made that next week's women's meeting would be an evening dinner in the Ebell club, in charge of a committee.

EXPERT TO GIVE ORANGE I. O. O. F. BOYS HINTS ON TO BE HOST TO CONSTRUCTION STATE CHIEFS

Phil Goss, a representative of the Robert Pollock company, Glendale, will be here Saturday morning to attend the meeting of the Junior Aviation club, sponsored by the 20-30 club and The Register, it was announced today.

The Pollock company is exhibiting model airplanes in the sporting goods store of T. J. Neal, 209 East Fourth street. At the meeting of the club, Saturday, Goss will answer questions members may have to ask concerning construction of miniature planes. He will be accompanied by Latham Pollock, also an expert on model plane building.

Following the meeting, Goss will demonstrate some of the models here on the Julia Lathrop school grounds.

"We are in position to give members of the club scientific information on construction work and will be glad to give them advantage of our experience and knowledge," Goss said.

Plans have been completed by the Odd Fellows lodge in Orange for the annual home-coming of members of that lodge tomorrow night, it was announced today.

An official visit by state officers will be one of the features of the session. Judge Harold Louderback, of San Francisco, judge of the federal court of northern California and grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will give the principal address. Short talks also will be made by Hjalmar Johnson, of Pasadena, deputy grand master, and Floyd E. Hushaw, of Fresno, grand warden. A short program will precede the address by the grand master.

"It is very seldom that three grand officers visit a lodge on the same evening," Palmer said, and he added that it is anticipated there will be a large attendance of representatives of all branches of the order in the southern part of the state.

to the police station and will be returned to their owners. In the meantime, officers are continuing their investigation, with the idea of filling charges of petty theft or defacing property, should they be able to prove who stole the signs. Chief Rogers said today that he also was awaiting word from the school board, regarding the turning over to school authorities of articles found in a house at 1038 West Highland avenue, Monday.

Some of the signs brought to the station yesterday read:

"Church Office," "Rooms For Men," "Please Don't Strike Matches On These Walls," "Drop Note in Mail Box," "For Fire Only," "United States Mail," "The Business Institute," "No Riding of Bicycles in the Park," "A Complete Course in Beauty Culture," "Santa Ana Post, No. 131, American Legion," "Justice of the Peace," "Naval Observatory Time, Western Union," "Taylor's Fruit Store," "Hill Building Elevator End of Hall."

Rogers also announced that a group of young men had appeared at the police station last night to protest against a news story to the effect that a paddle had been confiscated by police in a house at 937 West Myrtle street. The boys claimed they were members of the Aero club and that the club recently had taken the house on Myrtle street and that the paddle was not found there.

The paddle was found at the house on Highland street, officers said.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—When the smoke of the first legislative session cleared away today it was disclosed that among the important measures introduced by Senator Nels Edwards, of Orange county, was a bill to make golf holes wider. He "putt" it in the last day.

BALBOA, Feb. 20.—Hearing that the North Pole region is said to have a warm temperature, "Hi" Tyde, well known "intelligent loafer," declared that was one assertion he'd take for granted and not try to prove for himself.

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 20.—Molly Coddie, who shocked local residents here a few years ago when she said "Fer Pete's Sake!" right out in public, jumped from the top floor of the Goofers-feathers building today. A note left in her room stated that after listening to certain radio advertisements she gave up hope trying to decide whether to eat a box of chocolates and get too fat or smoke a pack of cigarettes and get too skinny.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS
When the siren sounds it's time to pull over to the curb.

It's a dull year that Einstein announces no new theory.

THE FUMIGATOR will support "Gov." Loudon, Anaheim, for president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce on one condition.

But as Wahlberg anyhow, so we'll think it over, says, smoking is too effeminate, Gov.

Fine resolution endorsing the appointment by the board of supervisors of a county planning commission for Orange county came in this week, and from none other than the Fullerton Lions club. The Lions clubs, the majority of them, have shown their alertness to the needs of our county.

CANNERY WILL BEGIN PACKING WORK IN MARCH

FULLERTON, Feb. 20.—Opening of the Canner-Lobinger cannery is expected within the next month, it was announced today.

By H. E. Dalbey, manager, who said that preparations are under way for the canning of about 2500 tons of spinach. New machinery is being installed.

About 400 acres are under contract with the local cannery and the harvesting of the crop is expected to start before the end of this month.

The expenditure for the machinery amounts to nearly $10,000. The new machinery includes a washer and blancher in one unit, which saves in both time and labor in the preparation of the spinach for the cans.

The crop was not damaged to any extent by the recent cold weather, Dalbey said. The plant probably will be running at capacity production early in March, Dalbey said.

A record production of spinach is anticipated if there is an adequate amount of rainfall.

Entertains Students
Aladdin, the magician, gave the Willard student body an exhibition of magical wonders last Friday afternoon during the regular assembly period. The students were fascinated by the sleight-of-hand tricks which were entertaining.

The funds raised from this show will go towards the building of hand ball courts. This has been a long felt need at Willard and it is hoped these courts may become a reality in the near future.

JULIA LATHROP

Assembly

At a student body assembly on Wednesday, Lathrop was introduced to her new officers and to the commissioners of student government and their committees. These are arranged in groups with commissioners from the faculty heading committees of students who take charge of the halls, the yard, fire drills, student court, the shop and the cafeteria.

Following the assembly, students adjourned to their various clubs which had been rearranged because of the new semester.

Mrs. Wolff and Miss Graham, of the English department, attended the Oral Arts breakfast at the Orange tea room in Los Angeles.

At this time the new junior high school course of study was presented and discussed. Dr. Immel of the University of Southern California made a brief talk on the new courses in motion pictures to be introduced at the university.

The girls of Miss Graham's high English class presented an original Good English play last Friday with the class as an audience.

The Lathrop Branch Library is very fortunate in having a large Rand McNally Commercial Atlas of America which will be especially useful to the social science and commercial departments.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Child, a Lathrop library patron, the teachers and students of Lathrop are enjoying the London Times.

New Books
New books in the library are as follows: "Safari," by Martin Johnson; "The Hounds of God," Rafael Sabatini; "Silas Bradford's Boys," Joseph Lincoln; "The World Does Move," Booth Tarkington; "Giant Killer," Elmer Davis; "A History of California; The American Period," Cleland; "Forward Go," Newberry; "Flying the Arctic," Captain George Wilkins; "Knights of the Wing," A. M. Jacobs; "The Not-Quite Puritans," Lawrence; and "The Children," Edith Wharton.

Reports from the Lathrop shops are that boys taking woodshop are making cedar chests, library tables, floor lamps, etc.

Lathrop is pleased this year with her Scholarship society. Miss Hazel Thrasher, faculty advisor for this movement, says that the society is larger than it has ever been with a membership of 48. This organization is made up of those students who have 60 grade points. This average is attained by account of three A's two A2's and one B1 multiplied by the number of periods each week. Unless the student takes orchestra at noon, 90 points is the highest average that may be reached. At present two members of the society have this mark, Phyllis Gerrard and Kamea Okamoto, of the high eighth and high ninth classes, respectively.

Members of this society may belong to the Scholarship club and 33 have elected to join this club in preference to the other clubs. The Scholarship society doesn't by any means have all work arranged play, because the last social affair, which was a picnic at the Orange County park, was a great success, and a trip to the Mission play is being planned for the near future.

Honor Students
There are 138 students on Lathrop's honor roll. This list includes only those who have received no grade in effort below A1. Those belonging to the Scholarship society include Barbara Allen, Harold Baker, Mabel Barrios, Mary Ana Baxter, Gordon Beisel, Hazel Bergee, Eunice Bright, Donald Bush, Holmes Chambliss, Evelyn Chandler, Helen Clark, Ruth Dohmer, Betty Dunton, James Dye, Phyllis Gerrard, Maxine Gidcomb, Richard Gilliland, Olive Hatch, Flora Hemphill, Burnell Hendrickson, Modena Henry, George Holmes, Mary King, Marguerite Lewis, Maurice Lyeon, Elmer Manning, Vivian Martin, Jack MacFarland, John McFarland, Patricia McCure, Lucille McCullough, Charles McWaters, Bernice Miles, Mary Nau, George Nelson, Kamea Okamoto, Lois Franke, Dorothy Proctor, Virginia Ramerale, Lucille Reynolds, Serena Reynolds, Helebreve, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Vivian Switzer, Leona Taves, Minna Warner, Lorraine Wheeler, Vera White.

Founders' day commemorating two women, Alice Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, as the organizers of the Parent-Teacher association 32 years ago, was celebrated at Roosevelt school Tuesday. A large birthday cake, decorated in yellow with 32 blue candles and the years, 1897 and 1929, on the top, was lighted by Mrs. Frank Was who gave a short history of the founding of the association. osevelt district where she has an active member of the executive board.

L. W. Archer spoke on the summer playgrounds, the growth in the attendance since their opening three years ago, and the regrettable financial difficulties to be overcome before efficient playground supervision can be obtained.

Mrs. Charles Perreung presided over the meeting.

A play and cooked food sale are included in the plans that the association has made to raise money. Letters from each high sixth grade pupil were received, thanking the P.T.A. for the financial assistance for their trip to Exposition park in Los Angeles. Miss Wells displayed four beautiful pictures that have just been framed and presented to the school. These pictures will be hung in the classrooms.

Miss Wells discussed a plan for a period each Monday that is to be devoted to hand work.

Mrs. Perreung thanked the mothers who helped to make the recent sewing bee a success. 60 garments being made and distributed among several needy families in the district.

A count of the mothers present was taken and the room having the greatest percentage at the end of the year will receive a treat from the P.T.A.

A comparison was made by Mrs. Cloyes, the parliamentarian, of the present constitution and by-laws with the model by-laws sent to each association by the district president. As the present by-laws do not conflict in any way with the national and state, a motion was made to continue with the old constitution.

The birthday cake was cut and served with coffee by the refreshment committee.

ARTESIA

Ball Games

Two athletic events marked the past week at Artesia street school. On Tuesday the baseball team from Los Alamitos came to our school to administer to the boys' team the first defeat of the season with a score of four to one.

A disastrous score of 14 to six was also the result in the girls' basketball game with McKinley girls on Thursday afternoon.

St. Valentine's day was duly celebrated with appropriate festivities on Thursday. The children received red and white mint hearts as valentines from the teachers.

Bridge Club
Friday evening the teachers' bridge club was entertained by Mrs. Evelyn Gray and Mrs. Nellie M. Smith, at Mrs. Smith's charming home on Orange avenue. The valentine motif was effectively used in the decorations. At the close of the evening of bridge, Mrs. Alice M. Taubee was successful in carrying off first prize, a lovely rose-colored glass basket. A delightful collation of chicken salad and individually molded ice cream hearts was served at the end of an enjoyable evening. Special guests were two former teachers, Mrs. Stella Franzen and Miss Helen Gancy, and Mrs. Johnson and Miss Horne, who have recently joined the group at Artesia street.

FIRST OF PORTLAND SQUAD REPORTS HERE

S. A. Tracksters Oppose Fullerton, Orange Friday

CAPTAIN CONE IS SENSATIONAL IN HALF-MILE

Fullerton and Orange, both ancient and honorable rivals of the local institution, will band together Friday afternoon to give Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana high school track and field squad its first dual meet competition of the 1929 season.

Little is known here of the ability of the two Orange league schools on the cinderpath but the combination gives the prospective Saint runners, jumpers, hurdlers and weight throwers a hard early season workout.

Hot on the trail of Friday's meet will come the big annual interclass affair. Rivalry is keen for the big Register cup that goes to the winner and the school trophy for the most entries. This meet is scheduled for February 25 and 26, the latter date being just two days before the strong Long Beach troupe arrive to do the Saints battle in a league meet. For the first time, the sophomores will make a race out of it and give the upperclass men a run for their money. Led by Jim Daneri and Ralph Gordon, sprinters, the second year team will be dangerous.

Long Beach Strong
The Long Beach Jackrabbits are very strong this year with a number of lettermen back. They were able to drag down 15 points and take second place in the National Orange Show relay at San Bernardino. The Saints got fifth, but would have done better, it is believed, if Al Reboin and "Red" Cooke had been on deck.

Last year Long Beach downed the Saints, 62-1-2 to 50-1-2. Inasmuch as Santa Ana has virtually none of that great team back, chances are rather slim for a victory.

Norman Paul is proving the sensation in the sprints and Lloyd Nuzum pulled a real surprise in the 440 at San Bernardino when with no training, he ran a quarter in 53 seconds. Reboin will give Pa plenty of competition in the sprints, especially the century, his favorite. Nuzum and Walker, probably will care for the hurdles alone, although several newcomers may develop.

Cone Sensational
The running of Captain Tommy Cone at San Bernardino was nothing short of sensational. The diminutive skipper was clocked in 2:05 for his two 880 laps, which is just about the best time any prep athlete in the Southland has made to date. In one race, Cone started his first lap 15 yards behind the leader and was barely beaten by six inches. Tommy figures to break 2 minutes this year if he keeps up that kind of work.

Along with Carl Schoenberg, who ran 2:11 and Tom Donahue, who made 2:07, the distance events are well taken care of. Donahue also shades 4:45 in the mile. Jim Daneri should help Nuzum in the 440. He showed his lack of experience at San Bernardino but with some "Olivering" should develop into a good quarter-miler. He ran 55 seconds recently, good for so early. He also sprints well, being a sensation at Julia Lathrop last year.

Bill Miller, San Diego world champion pole vaulter, is still in the Coast League ranks and will be unbeatable this year. He soars around 13 feet, remarkable for a high school athlete. Russell Sullivan is about the only vaulter on hand at the local foundry, being capable of about 11 feet. Miller won't be in every track meet so "Red" has a chance. High jumpers are scarce as hen's teeth here, about the only ones in sight being Paul Jacques and Don Abbot.

Charley Paddock To Talk At Orange

Charles Paddock, famous sprinter, will be the speaker at an assembly of Orange union high school students tomorrow. His topic will be "Clean Sportsmanship." Paddock was secured through the Lettermen's association of the school. The Olympic hero holds 17 world records.

BEGINNING LIFE HISTORY OF YOUNG STRIBLING, BOXING'S HARD WORKING HEAVYWEIGHT

(Here is the first chapter of the story of Young Stribling's life, written for The Register by Milton K. Wallace, of Macon, Ga., a life-long friend of the Striblings. This series on Stribling's colorful life brings out interesting chapters never before revealed. Daily chapters will follow.)

By MILTON K. WALLACE
(Written for NEA Service)

Regardless of whether W. L. ("Young") Stribling defeats Jack Sharkey in their Miami Beach bout February 27, and then goes on to win the heavyweight championship of the world, the young southern fighter will go down in pugilistic history as "The Hardest Working Heavyweight."

Few men have fought as often as Stribling. Two years ago, the sports writers said he was washed out—too much work and not enough play. But today he stands on the threshold of the heavyweight championship.

William Lawrence Stribling was born in the little south Georgia town of Bainbridge Dec. 28, 1904. Contrary to popular opinion, he was not brought up under the "big tops" of a circus. His early life was much the same as that of the average American boy. He had a good home, respectable parents, went to school and attended church services regularly. "Ma" Stribling saw that her boys, Billy and Herbert, kept good company, and she applied the hair brush vigorously whenever either of them got into mischief.

Pa and Ma Were Acrobats
Before the boys were born, Pa and Ma were vaudeville entertainers, doing an acrobatic stunt. Traveling around the country with two babies was no easy job, so they settled down for a few years until the boys were large enough to accompany them on the road. When but a few months old, Young Stribling was doing hand-springs and flips, balancing himself in his father's hands, and countless other things kids three times his age could not do.

"I'm going to make a heavyweight champion out of Billy," Pa said just after the youngster was born. Ma objected. She didn't want her son to be a bruiser; she visioned him a doctor or a lawyer who would settle down in Bainbridge or some other little south Georgia town where he would command the respect of the community in which he resided.

Then Herbert came along two years later. He was a frail little chap, in no way resembling his larger brother, but he, too, learned to do stunts on the trapeze, turn flips and balance himself in his father's hands. Then it was that Pa Stribling decided to return to the stage. This time there were four Striblings and they organized the "Four Novelty Grahams" touring this country and eventually Japan.

The "Grahams" traveled a great deal, but always found time for the boys to spend a few months in school somewhere. Whenever the lads were not in school, Ma tutored them.

The lure of the footlights is a hard thing to resist, actors tell you, but Pa saw in Billy the making of a champion and knew that the hard life of the vaudeville troupe was not the proper one for a boxer. So the stage was deserted again after Ma had rather reluctantly given her permission for Billy to take up boxing as a profession. Pa, a good boxer, started in at once to instruct his progeny in the science of right-crosses and uppercuts.

Pa Stribling saw in his son the fulfillment of his own cherished ambitions. Many years ago he had dreamed of winning fame in the ring, but his short stature handicapped him.

When Stribling became 16, his father decided that his boy was old enough to enter the prize ring as a professional. He and his brother, Herbert, had done a boxing act together on the stage for several years and all the time Pa had been instructing them.

"My boy is going to be a world's champion some day," Pa wrote a promoter in Atlanta, "but I am willing for him to fight for you on your card next Wednesday night for nothing. This is his first professional match and I am anxious to get him started. I want the chance."

Promoter Accepts
Of course the promoter took him up on his proposition. Even preliminary boys do not box for nothing, and the novel request resulted in Young Stribling's first real fight, a four-rounder. His

KEARNS DRIVES REAL BARGAIN IN CHICAGO GO

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Sagacious Jack Kearns, has driven another shrewd bargain, which will bring his man Mickey Walker the lightweight championship of the world or will net him and Walker $50,000.

The latest Kearns manipulation calls for Walker to meet Tommy Loughran for the lightweight championship here March 15. Tommy will be risking his title for a purse of $150,000. If the champion loses he will get the entire purse and Walker and Kearns must be content with a $10,000 training expense guarantee.

But if Walker loses he will get $50,000 and Tommy will take the remainder, so Kearns is assured of either the championship or one third of the purse, and that much money probably is more than Walker could get for defending the lightweight championship, which he now holds.

The agreement means that by risking nothing Walker gets well paid to go after the big money Kearns could make for him with a light-heavyweight championship. Kearns knows how to make money with a champion and it is safe to say that he'd be glad to pass up all of this purse and add a few thousand to it if Walker could win.

But Jack evidently isn't certain that Mickey can go out on his weight and trounce Loughran so, Kearns like, he makes sure that he and Walker will be well paid for their efforts.

Promoter Accepts
Of course the promoter took him up on his proposition. Even preliminary boys do not box for nothing, and the novel request resulted in Young Stribling's first real fight, a four-rounder. His

TRIBE FLYHAWK HAS YEN TO BE THIRD BASEMAN

SEATTLE TRAINING CAMP, SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 20.—Handy Sando has been immortalized to racing fans by another left-handed typewriter puncher named Runyon. And now "Handy Andy" is about to make a bid for a place in the diamond spotlight.

Andrew Anderson is his name. Andy his nickname and "Handy Andy" the sobriquet that Ernie Johnson hopes will fit the pudgy performer from Buffalo. Mr. Anderson, it seems, has a yearning to fill a versatile role with the Seattle Indians this year. He is an outfielder by vocation, a third sacker by avocation, and if given enough rope will play anywhere else the manager will spot him.

It all came out during yesterday's practice, which was confined to general limbering up and a round of fielding practice for everybody. Andy moved in from the outfield and asked for a trial at third base. After performing acceptably there he unburdened himself to President Bill Klepper that he'd like to compete for the third base job, or any place else that may reveal a weakness.

There was a particular reason why Klepper answered favorably. It is fairly easy to get hitting outfielders, but developing offensive punch among the inner berth pass-timers is a bigger order. Just today the Tribe magnate conceived a deal that may bring another gardener to the Indians. If he is acquired, Anderson can be spared for infield duty, or possibly utility infield and outfield service, with pinch hitting thrown in.

Arrival of Dave Barbee late last night completed the regular outfield as planned on paper. Dave drove in from his Carolina home all ready for action after the kinks are worked out. His past season's ailments are completely healed, he said.

Rudy Kallio, the Montavilla moundsman, also dropped anchor. Kallio was with Sacramento last season. Eddie Ainsmith was the third veteran. Four youngsters—Larry Canton, Ken Parker, Art Mittelstedt and George Runsey—also checked in.

"Chill" McDaniel, the last hold-out, wired today that he is on the

SAINTS HUMBLE ORANGE CAGERS IN TWO GAMES

Two Santa Ana high school basketball teams completed their season of practice games in Anderson's gymnasium last night. Coach Bill Cook's powerful class "Bees" crushing Orange high school's middles, 23 to 13, and Coach Clyde Patton's varsity trimming the Orange "A" five, 19 to 7, in one of their typical furious finishes.

Rarin' to go against San Diego here tomorrow, the Saint "Bees" let off a little extra energy in trimming the Orange middleweights in the curtain-raiser. The Saints were just too good for their neighbors. Santa Ana made 10 points before Orange even got near enough to shoot and made 14 points before the visitors scored a basket. The score was 14 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. Lindley having made the lion's share of the points, while Sullivan and Herren were close behind.

At the half, the count was 16 to 9, several new players appearing for Orange. The second string played the entire second and third periods for Santa Ana and made 7 points during that time to 11 for Orange, the count being 21 to 11 at the end of the third quarter. When the local regulars entered the fray in the last round the game tightened up and each team only made one basket.

Lindley was high point man with 10 points. He played a whale of a game and got the tipoff every time he jumped. Sullivan collected four himself and Herren got three. Erbe, Homan and Chamberlain made two apiece.

There was some doubt as to when the San Diego "Bees" would meet the locals but it has been definitely decided to play the titular battle Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. The Saints wanted to play Wednesday night and the Hilltoppers desired Friday night and tomorrow's date was a compromise. Santa Ana will have to win the game to have a chance at the championship. Special seats are being added to the tiny gymnasium here to care for the capacity crowd expected. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Coach Bill Cook will start Russell Sullivan and Asa Herren at forwards, Elwood Lindley at center and Captain Jim Hall and Bill Erbe, guards. Joe McChes-

KINREY MATSUYAMA, 92 POUND JAPANESE, IS MIGHTY MAN OF CUE GAME DESPITE HANDICAPS

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—You don't have to be a big fellow with a reach that sprawls all over the green to become a crack billiard player. When you haven't a long reach and happen to be built rather close to the ground, you operate your cue under handicaps but what's a handicap or two if you have a fighting heart and the ambition to be a big shot?

Kinrey Matsuyama, one of Nippon's smiling sons, ranks with the best cue artists in the world and he's there among the topnotchers because he didn't let things like small stature and a lack of reach bother him greatly.

LOCAL COLLEGE WOMEN ENTER PLAY DAY MEET

Approximately 40 women students of Santa Ana Junior college will participate in the semi-annual "Play Day" at San Bernardino Saturday when teams from all junior colleges of Southern California meet in a hockey and tennis contest.

Two hockey teams and a first single and first doubles tennis team will enter the contest. Opponent teams will not be known until the day of the games when they are selected by the drawing process. Sherrill Spurgeon and Helen Richards will captain the Santa Ana teams.

This will mark the first year that women athletes of the local college have gone into contest with distinguished jerseys, the Associated Students having purchased a stock of scarlet and black sweaters at the first of the year.

Leaving the college at 6:30 a. m., the students are expected to arrive in time for a preliminary meeting at 8 a. m. when teams will be matched. Besides the hockey and tennis contests, the day's program calls for a luncheon at noon and a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association of Southern California.

Members of the first team are Dorothy Harmon, Margaret Glenn, Sherrill Spurgeon, Roberta Eley, Mildred Staples, Joy Wilson, Marian Ruby Gray, Marjorie Watkins, Louise Grist, Lena Mae Wilsey, and Betty Wiawall. Representatives in tennis will be Mary Ford, Corinne Nelson, Doris Goff, Catherine Jessup and Eleanor Metzgar.

SIGN THIS FELLOW, JACK!
Dick Cox, who used to occupy some of the Brooklyn outfield, threatened the Shreveport club that he was going to retire and take up the prize fight business. Rather, the prize fight business. He pointed out that he was a good middleweight fighter and that he had decided to go into baseball on the flip of a coin. Cox was in the Texas league when Art Shires, the White Sox first baseman, was there, and Shires is rated as the best man in the league with his fist.

Cox, however, offered him an argument even if he denies the story heard several years ago that Frank Snyder, then catching for the Giants, cleaned him.

Detroit Off For Phoenix Tonight

DETROIT, Feb. 20.—The vanguard of the Detroit Tigers, including Manager Stanley Harris and the usual quota of newspaper correspondents and photographers will constrain here tonight for Phoenix, Ariz., where the Tigers will condition themselves for the coming grind.

Accompanying Harris will be Haskell Billings, Phil Page and Owen Carroll, pitchers; "Red" Hargrave and Ed Phillips, catchers and Business Manager Sheehan.

SERIOUS WORK WILL BEGIN AT FAIR THURSDAY

Those pesky Portland Beavers are slowly but surely finding their way into "nature's prolific wonderland." Five players, two regulars and three rookies, checked in at St. Ann's Inn early today but Manager Bill Rodgers expects more of his wayward athletes in town tonight and has called for the club's first serious workout at the Orange County Fair grounds tomorrow morning.

Charley Bates, the nimble-footed outfielder who hit 230 for the Beavers last term, and Johnny Saunders, the young catcher, who was used mainly for relief purposes last summer, are the two regulars in camp. The rookies are John Beck, a pitcher from Salem; Ray Rake, a southpaw from Coquille, Ore., and Bill Brauer, a chucker from Portland.

Fred Orman, regular gunner, was expected momentarily along with several other veterans. While the Beavers were gradually drifting in to the city, S. W. Stanley, secretary of the Orange County Fair association, announced the complete training camp schedule of exhibition games. Portland will open against Johnny Bassler's National Baseball school Saturday, March 2.

The full program follows:

- March 2—Portland-National Baseball school.
- March 3—Portland-Orange County club.
- March 7—Portland-National Baseball school.

Portland will be officially welcomed to Orange county at a dinner at McFarland's cafe, Fullerton, next Tuesday. President Tom Turner and Secretary Roy Mack will be guests of honor.

PAOLINO, CHRISTNER COMPLETE TRAINING

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Paolino Uzcudun and K. O. Christner, heavyweights, will wind up training today for their bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Interest in the fight is keen here, with Paolino quoted an 8 to 5 favorite. Christner will be the one to draw the crowd, critics agree, for the fans were impressed by the same tough losing battle the Akron rubber pudger put up against Jack Sharkey in the same ring last month.

Men who know quality, who appreciate value will respond as never before to this—our most important array of shirts. All styles—collar attached, neckband and collar to match of broad cloth and madras make these a real value. Priced from $1.50 to $3.00.

REFEREE WILL BE ONLY JUDGE OF MIAMI BOUT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20.—The Sharkey-Stribling fight will be conducted under rules which both principals and the referee, Lou Magnolia, are familiar with. The most important rule battles in the careers of both Sharkey and Stribling have been fought heretofore in New York so it seems no reason for opposition from either camp to the proposal to abide by rules laid down by William Muldoon and his associates.

Agreement by the principals to fight according to the rules of the New York commission would simplify the business of obtaining the services of Magnolia as referee. Before Lou could accept the appointment, permission of the Empire state boxing solons would be necessary.

Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, wanted the fight held in accordance with Massachusetts rules something he hardly could reasonably expect to obtain.

New York rules provide for two judges in addition to the referee, a majority vote deciding the outcome of a bout. In next week's fight in Flamingo park the referee alone will render the decision. Magnolia is for from a popular choice so far as the South was concerned. The Striblings who have been put on record by "Pa" as accepting the New York arbiters, were reticent in discussing the matter, but were unable to conceal their opposition to Magnolia. Young Stribling himself, who leaves most of the talking to his parents, merely shook his head dubiously and said he did not understand that Magnolia's selection was definite and irrevocable.

"Ma" Stribling makes no secret of the fact she wishes she were wearing the trousers in the present negotiations. She would not have stood for Magnolia, she indicated.

SAINT VARSITY IMPRESSIVE IN VICTORY

Memories of the recent football season were brought back vividly when the Santa Ana varsity squad submerged Orange in a terrific battle, 19 to 7.

If the Saints could play the same brand of ball at San Diego Friday night, the Hilltoppers would have a nice chunk taken out of their championship aspirations. The Saints defense was well-nigh perfect, the Orange-pickers getting only one basket from the floor, and that at the very end of the game. The other five digits were made on foul throws.

Several second stringers started for Orange but made the going fast and furious. Captain Curt Youel of Santa Ana made one basket and that was the only early score, the count being 2 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. Still added one more in the second period so the score was only 4 to 0 at the half. Spills and collisions happened one after the other, with both teams at fault.

The full Orange varsity started the second half and made two points while the Saints were getting six, Bender sinking one and Youel getting two. This quarter ended, 10 to 2. The first half of the fourth quarter was still close but the Santa Ana boys ran away from their opposition at the end and made nine points in rapid succession. The lineup:

Santa Ana (19) (7) Orange Youel (10).....F..... Allen Meisinger.....F..... Friedman Stull (2).....C..... Tomblin (2).....G..... Santa Cruz Long.....G..... Smith

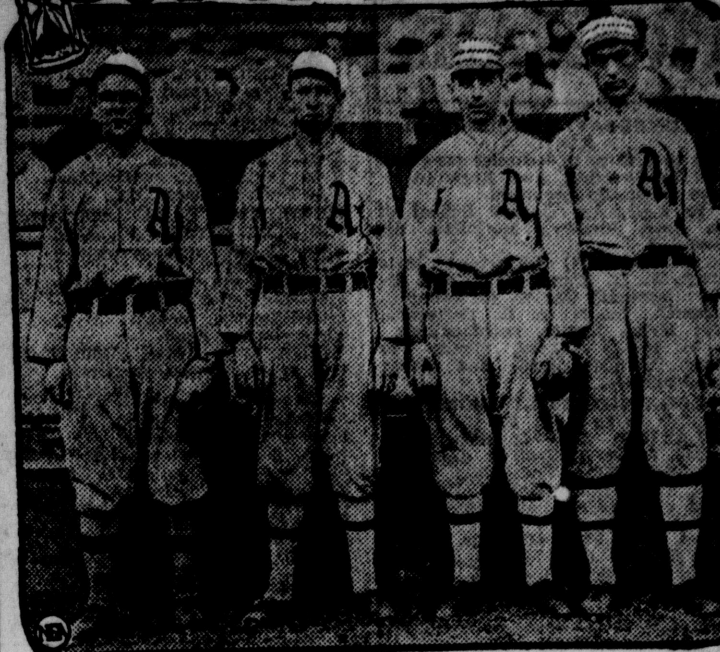

For Santa Ana—Armour (2) for Youel, Gaspar for Stull, Orange—Ass (1) for Allen; Struck (2) for Friedman, Fairbairn (2) for Tomblin, Bandick (2) for Santa Cruz, Rohrs for Smith, Allen for Ass.

"BABY" STRIBLING WINS

FT. LADERDALE, Fla., Feb. 20.—"Baby" Stribling, younger brother of W. L. outpointed Mike Kelly of Ft. Lauderdale in a 10-round bout here last night. They fought at 135 pounds.

OUT OF THE PAST

Way back in 1912 an infidel that was worth $100,000 was an attraction of the day. When a sports writer advanced the opinion that "Stuffy" Melnis, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and "Home Run" Baker of the Philadelphia Athletics were worth $100,000 on the hoof the idea was ridiculed. It was admitted that they made up the greatest infidel of the day but then as they do now.

There isn't much doubt that McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker, if they were in their prime today, would command $100,000 each and as a group they might be sold for more than a half million dollars.

The old picture above, in the funny looking uniforms they did not abandon for years, shows the $100,000 infidel left to right, McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker.

BEGINNING LIFE STORY OF STRIBLING

opponent was Kid Domb, an Atlanta bantamweight, and Stribling won the decision. It is a coincidence that Tiger Flowers, who without doubt was one of the greatest colored fighters the world ever knew, began his career in the same ring about three years previous to Stribling's first battle.

The Atlanta promoter, well pleased with the showing of Stribling in his first bout, offered Pa Stribling $10 for another four-round preliminary. Pa, anxious to get Billy before the public, and incidentally wanting him to have all the experience possible, agreed for his son to meet Kid Napple, a very tough young man, who had been spreading terror among the preliminary boys in Atlanta.

Napple's chief weapon was a wild right swing that sent his opponents into dreamland whenever it landed, and usually it landed. Stribling, however, knew too much for the bad boy and easily outpointed him. After that his services were in demand all over the south, not as a preliminary boy, but as a star attraction. The records show that he fought 21 bouts during the year 1921, which year marked his advent into the boxing business. He won eight of these fights by knockouts and outpointed in the others.

Dado, Peters Go To Draw In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20.—"Speedy" Dado, clever Filipino flyweight, fought a fast 10-round draw with Ernie Peters at the Olympic last night. Dado fought eight rounds with an injured right hand.

Boxing

Henry T. Foust, czar of Santa Ana boxing, is back at the old stand following a hurried business trip to Phoenix, Ariz. The "Doc" will look over his flock at the Orange County Athletic club with a paternal eye again Friday night.

The broken thumb that cost Jimmie Rivers, Jack Walker's classy young Fullerton welterweight, some attractive assignments in Southern California rings is mending rapidly and Rivers will be ready to go again soon. Jimmie suffered a bad break to the digit on his left hand, his best punching one, in that never-to-be-forgotten affray with Zenaydo Chavez four weeks ago.

Joe Goeders, another promising youngster who was unfortunate enough to break a hand at the O.C.A.C., has returned to his home in Denver but promises to return for a match here when he is physically able. Several hard-boiled critics think Goeders, an undefeated boy, is the best prospect that has yet engaged in a professional bout locally.

"Biff" Hoffman, the big fellow who gave Wally Frazier a close bout here recently, headlines the San Diego boxing show Friday night. He gets "Bad News" Johnson.

A paragraph in a Long Beach sports story about Billy Clark, who has appeared here several times, will be of interest. "Billy Clark, who has turned in good, bad and indifferent performances here during the last year, is rapidly hitting his stride and may yet develop into a topnotch performer," the article states. "Clark has taken to his training in a serious manner during the last month and the results of his faithful efforts have been evident in his last four months."

Jesse Ayala, "baby" member of Jack Walker's stable, meets Leonard Bennett, another erstwhile amateur, at Pasadena tomorrow night.

way from Oklahoma City, but he won't arrive in time to get limbered up for the Saturday and Sunday exhibition contests. Catcher Boreas was due today, which will leave only Jim Edwards, southpaw pitcher, missing, and he has been given permission to report around the first of March. He wanted to wind up business at home, and is always one of the fastest players to get in condition, anyhow.

TAYLOR-SINGER GO SANCTION IS GIVEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute featherweight, will be able to meet Al Singer, New York, in a return match at Madison Square Garden. The recent match between the pair went to Singer on a foul.

The New York boxing commission, which suspended Taylor for the foul blow that ended the previous fight, announced that he would be reinstated March 15.

Leo Lomski, Aberdeen light heavyweight, appeared before the commission and asked to be recognized as champion of the division. The request was denied but Lomski was informed that Champion Tommy Loughran would be informed of his challenge for a title bout. The $2500 forfeit money Lomski posted for such a bout last spring was returned.

Griffin May Be Bay Bout Referee

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Jim Griffin, veteran referee, was mentioned prominently here today as the likely arbiter of the Mickey Walker-Jack Willis bout Friday afternoon. Both Walker and Willis are training hard and are said to be in perfect condition.

FRESNO, Feb. 20.—Mushy Calahan, junior welterweight champion, won on a technical knockout here last night in the fourth round over Frankie Fuentes, of El Paso. Fuentes was badly punished.

COUNTY COAST BALL CIRCUIT PROPOSED

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 20.—An Orange county coast baseball league is likely to be formed in the near future. The proposal will be discussed at a meeting of the Orange County Coast association's publicity committee at San Clemente tonight. It was understood here today.

San Clemente, San Juan Capistrano and other points in the southern part of the coast line are eager for such a league.

A Coast Boy Scout league is also proposed, and a game between Boy Scouts of Newport Beach and Costa Mesa is slated for Saturday afternoon, March 2, as a starter. It will be played at the Costa Mesa clubhouse diamond.

Cubs Go Through Paces At Avalon

AVALON, Catalina Island, Feb. 20.—Perfect weather prevailed today as the Chicago Cubs snapped through their second three-hour workout under Manager Joe McCarthy.

Veteran pitchers, including Root, Malone, Neff, Bush and Blake took their turns on the mound in batting practice and later shagged flies in the outfield. Coaches Jimmy Burke and Grover Land instructed Ed Lautenbach, Berlyn Horne, Roy Hansen and other rookie hurlers in the fine points of mound work.

French composers of the middle period of the nineteenth century also will be given special attention during the musical school lesson. KFWB Broadcasts Jeffries And Fitz Struggle Tonight

KFWB's weekly re-created world's championship boxing contests have turned out to be more exciting than anyone expected and have found a tremendous Southern California audience. There is hardly any betting on the outcome of the fights, inasmuch as the winners were determined 20 or more years ago.

Some reckless gamblers still are looking for suckers, however. Tune in KFWB, 9 to 10 o'clock tonight, to hear James J. Jeffries unwind Bob Fitzsimmons in the famous battle in New York City, 1899.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Feb. 20.—Motion pictures were shown at the school assembly held in observance of Lincoln's birthday at the Oceanview school Friday afternoon. Three songs were rendered by members of the school glee club.

The basketball games played between the teams of Oceanview and Fountain Valley resulted in a score of 47 to 10 in favor of the Oceanview boys and 20 to 2 in favor of the Oceanview girls.

Many friends of the I. R. Moore family attended the funeral of Mr. Moore, which was held in Huntington Beach last week.

Mrs. Ruth Bardon, who is visiting relatives here from Kansas, was a recent over night guest of her mother, Mrs. Harriette Dowdy. Mrs. Bardon is staying in Huntington Beach, where several members of her family reside.

This Is a Life Insurance Policy Not Accident

Santa Ana Register

Today You May Be Able to Get Insurance, What About Tomorrow?

Have You Taken Advantage of This Offer? If Not Why? for $1,500 LIFE INSURANCE POLICY for $5.00

For a Short Time Our Subscribers can secure a Low Cost Life Insurance Policy Issued by The Policy Holders Life Insurance Association of Los Angeles Male or Female, ages from 10 to 55, no restrictions as to travel, residence or place of death— WITHOUT MEDICAL EXAMINATION.

Organized under the laws of the State of California and operated under the supervision of the Insurance Department of this State.

WHAT IS THIS INSURANCE PLAN?

The Oldest Form of Insurance Known—Purely Mutual

Is plain old-fashioned life insurance. Leaves out such items as cash values, extended values, and paid-up insurance values, which represent such a large part of the premium of the usual investment form of life insurance, but which add nothing to the value of the policy to the insured at death.

Is sure protection, at cost. You make your savings in any of the various ways offered in this day and age which pay a higher rate of interest return than investment life insurance.

IS NON-MEDICAL, REQUIRING ONLY A STATEMENT OF FIRST CLASS HEALTH AND PHYSICAL CONDITION

Is incontestable from date of issue except for suicide first year or for fraud. It is free from restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation, place or manner of death. Members are not liable for any debts of the Association. The only obligation is to pay the dues and Death Claims. Failure to pay such, lapses the insurance and terminates membership in the Association.

Is offered as additional low cost protection to those already carrying life insurance, and as a much needed form of protection to those who feel themselves unable to carry the higher priced forms of investment life insurance. Is heartily approved by bankers, professional and business men and women.

When you pay $5.00 your insurance is in force and paid up in full for 6 months. Semi-annual dues thereafter, $2.50. Death assessments $1.00. No medical examination required.

Can You Afford To Pass Up This Opportunity?

Are your wife and family protected, or will they have to pay in sacrifice for your neglect? This announcement is of great importance to you—if you have a family—wife and little children—a mother grown old, or a father enfeebled by age. It is an unpleasant thought but one that none of us can escape—if you have failed to provide for that great emergency that so often leaves families destitute and forces them immediately out into the world to find some way to meet their bills, before they have fully recovered from their altered condition. If the unexpected should happen, wouldn't it be a splendid thing to leave them enough to safeguard their independence during that heart-breaking period of readjustment? So that she will not be broken down by the burden of debt that so often follows the blow of death. Why not bridge that gap now, in advance, for her sake?

ASK COUNTY TO JOIN FIGHT ON 'VICIOUS' BILLS

Possibility that Orange county may join with other counties and organizations in opposing passage of certain alleged vicious bills, which, it is asserted, would result in increased costs for contracting work done by the counties, was seen yesterday when the board of supervisors considered taking steps in the matter.

George Wells, Santa Ana contractor, brought the subject to the attention of the supervisors, stating that there is a large number of such bills before the legislature. Many of them are of a freak nature and would result in added expenditure to the county in its construction work, if passed, he indicated.

The board referred the legal angle of the question to District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. Whether the county can join in such a movement is a matter which the board wishes settled before taking action. It was pointed out that it would be necessary for the county to determine definitely just which bills were included in the movement before it decided to lend its influence in the matter.

Presenting More of Young Men Who Carry Your Daily Register

The most important date of all time to these young promoters is April 1, when the time comes for them to go to Catalina Island as guests of The Register.

This offer was made to The Register carriers some time back, the party to be given them for their promptness of service and faithfulness in carrying for and increasing their routes.

The determination of these boys has brought the city carrier circulation to a figure far in advance of that of a month ago, and the boys still are going strong.

Not only will the boys enjoy the boat ride to the island but they will be entertained on the island. They will visit the bird farm, the pirate ship and other places of interest.

Your carrier may be in this group. Look at the picture, find his face and name—he will be glad to hear you call him by his first name. The boys and their routes are as follows:

First in the top row: Harold McClain, route 4; carries Brown, 900 French, 400-600 Fruit, 600-900 Garfield, 400-1100 Lacy, 900 Block Minter, 900 Block Polinetta, 400-700 Stafford, 500 to end Vance.

DEFENDANTS IN REAL ESTATE SUIT VICTORS

S. A. Salvesson and W. M. Hunt, Fullerton real estate brokers, were victors today in a lawsuit brought against them by A. F. Walker, who sought a superior court judgment for $5883.33, which he alleged was due him as commission.

Superior Judge E. J. Marks has granted a non-suit motion made by G. K. Scovel, attorney for the defendants. Walker had alleged in his complaint that he was entitled to receive one-third of the commission resulting from the sale of a $150,000 grove in Butte county, handled by the defendants. The commission was $25,000, but he received only $2500, he alleged. The $2500 payment to him was made in settlement of a case originally brought by him against the same men on the same grounds.

According to Walker's complaint, he discovered after this settlement that Salvesson and Walker had received $25,000 commission. He said they had told him they had received only $7500. The defendants denied that they had received more than $7500, of which Walker's $2500 was the one-third to which they said he was entitled. Walker was represented by William Waters, Fullerton attorney.

CRITIC PRAISES NOTED ARTISTS OF SOUTHLAND

Significant interests of American women in the business world, was the fact that an address on "Representative Landscape Artists of the Southland," given Monday before members of Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club, at St. Ann's Inn, by Antony Anderson, former dramatic critic of the Los Angeles Times, was declared to be one of the finest talks ever given before the clubwomen.

During his long years as dramatic critic, Antony Anderson gained the reputation of clarity of judgment and unquestioned taste in artistic matters, so his choice of five artists from the brilliant array offered by Southern California was especially interesting to his hearers. Elmer Wachtel, his wife, Marian Cavanaugh Wachtel, William Wendt, Hanson Puthoff and Benjamin Brown comprised the group chosen for discussion.

The speaker took exception to Stewart Edward White's famous remark that "California is the graveyard of talent."

Claiming that the tremendous strides made by landscape artists in the south and by figure and portrait artists in the north made a logical division line, the speaker cited Elmer Wachtel, and William Wendt as two outstanding men who had "never toyed with academic figures in art." Marian Cavanaugh Wachtel was acclaimed as one of the most brilliant of aquarellists of the day, "with no opaque color to dim her canvas."

William Wendt, born in Germany and reared in Chicago, was declared to be one of the most masterly technicians of America, and a painter of such intangible things as light and air. In contrast to his love of the early morning atmosphere, was pictured Elmer Wachtel's "lovely lyrical note of late afternoon." The latter's technical dexterity and his color boldness are especially significant, according to the speaker.

Benjamin Brown's 30 years of work in Pasadena were dwelt upon. "He handles his paint with a full brush and a full heart," the speaker said, declaring his canvases to have an impassioned energy.

"Hanson Puthoff's genius for composition has ripened and developed through his two decades in the southland, as has his technical excellence. His early work was in portraiture, but he has found his true métier in landscape," concluded the speaker in summing up the special artistic attributes of the final one of the five artists under consideration.

Anderson was presented to the clubwomen by Miss Doris Robbins, of the February committee, and was accompanied to the luncheon by Isabel Hollister, a member of the staff of the South Coast News, Laguna Beach paper.

MUTE WINS FAME AS ARTIST

Sickness in infancy left John Louis Clark deaf and dumb—called cu-to-pais, or "the silent one," by his Blackfoot tribesmen. But in his studio in Glacier National park, the silent Indian's wood carvings of mountain goats, cougar, bear and other wild life subjects are so eloquent in their artistry that his work has won high honors in eastern exhibits, and has been purchased for permanent displays in the museums of many cities.

RUNAWAY SANTA ANA BOYS, ARMED WITH BUTCHER KNIFE 'TO FIGHT WOLVES,' FOUND

BREA, Feb. 20.—Supplied with a scant roll of bedding and armed with a fierce looking butcher knife, with which they planned to "fight wolves," Wesley Kirkpatrick, 12, and James Lanford, 14, both of Santa Ana, left that city Monday, presumably adventure-bound. They were riding bicycles, which they are said to have appropriated at the Y. M. C. A. in Santa Ana.

All this was disclosed when the boys were apprehended here yesterday morning by Chief of Police W. H. Williams and held for their parents after the Santa Ana police department had been notified of their whereabouts.

The boys confided to Williams that they had determined to start out on their own and see something of life. Having been told that wolves and mountain lions infested the region of Brea canyon, they declared they had confiscated the butcher knife as a method of defense in case of attack.

Grove Scouts To Be Legion Guests

Members of the three Boy Scout troops in Garden Grove will be guests of the American Legion there Friday night of this week, according to George Walker, Boy Scout executive here.

Following dinner, the public will be invited in to enjoy a program, to start at 7:30.

The entertainment will be put on by the Scouts. The program will include a film, "White Bar Trail."

Held To Answer On Check Charge

Waiving his preliminary examination, Earl Vinte Adams, Los Angeles, was held to answer to the superior court on bail of $1500 on a check charge in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. Adams is accused of passing a worthless $12 check in the Parsons drug store here on January 26. He was store here on February 6.

S. A. WILL BE MADE CENSUS HEADQUARTERS

That Santa Ana will be the headquarters of census taking activity for this region in 1930 virtually was assured today with the agreement of the board of supervisors to provide office space for the census director when he starts operations next October.

Rearrangements are being carried out in the courthouse and Hall of Records offices at present and during the process room will be found for the census headquarters.

Indication that Santa Ana had been selected as the center of the 1930 operations came in a letter to Postmaster T. E. Stephenson, from national headquarters, in which information regarding the possible provision of space was asked. Stephenson brought the matter to the attention of the board of supervisors.

Included in the Santa Ana district will be Riverside county. There will be three districts in Southern California instead of one, as previously has been the case.

LETTERING SHEETS

When beds in a home are several sizes it is often hard to pick from freshly laundered sheets, the size to fit a particular bed. A time saver is to letter or number small sheets "one" or "A," three-quarter bed sheets "two" or "B," and full-sized sheets "three" or "C." Put in one upper corner these identifications can be seen easily.

Is Incentive For Dinner Party

That friendly spirit which seems to dominate the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moulton at El Niguel rancho in the "sweeping El Toro hills," was manifested Monday night when the hosts gathered a little group of friends around them for an evening of bridge, chat and music as a sequel to an enjoyable dinner complimenting Ex-Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., a guest of his sister, Mrs. Ella Campau.

Floral decorations for the evening were based upon a heather motif, great baskets of the delicately tinted flower being used effectively. Blending in with the mauve and orchid tones, were the anemones and sweet peas which banked the table, where places were indicated for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton, Senator Smith, Mrs. Campau, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, Mr. and Mrs. John Pemberton Baumgartner, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Angus J. Cruickshank.

While tables were in readiness for everyone to play cards during the after-dinner interval, the men seemed to prefer to gather in their own little group and settle the affairs of the nation, while their dinner partners gave their attention to playing bridge informally.

Both conversation and bridge were abandoned however, when Mrs. Slabaugh took her place at the piano in gracious compliance with her hostess' wish. Everyone knows and loves Mrs. Slabaugh's exquisite contralto voice, and when she plays her own accompaniments, as she often does for the entertainment of just such groups of friends as that in the Moulton home the result is one of rare enjoyment. Her selections Monday night ranged from Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," with its tender melody, to the brilliant "Ecstasy" of Winter Watts, including also "One Golden Day" by Fay Foster, and "Love's In My Heart," by Huntington Woodman.

Well-known Violinist
To Leave Monday on Concert Tour

With the prospect of a four weeks concert tour through southwestern and central states and as far east as Chicago, Ollimae Enlow Matthews (Mrs. Harry Matthews) 2519 North Main street, one of the Southland's most gifted violinists, was today completing arrangements for leaving Monday with a party of three other artists, with herself as violin soloist and manager.

All from Los Angeles, the remaining members of the company are Olga Herd, a pianist in great demand in Southland musical circles; Helen Ledger, a dramatic soprano of rare ability, and Jane Gray Davis, whose contralto voice is of unusually lovely quality, and who was formerly with the Aborn Opera company. Both Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Herd are sister members of Mrs. Matthews in the St. Cecilia club, famous organization of musicians in Los Angeles.

The company is booked for ten concerts, several of them being requested return engagements for the Santa Ana violinist, who made a similar tour a year or two ago. Programs to be presented will consist of special costume features. In this part, Mrs. Matthews will present a group of typical Russian compositions, and has a striking Russian costume which she declares to be unusually suited to her fair complexion and sea-green eyes. One of the singers is to appear in Norwegian costume for a group of songs of that country, while the other, as a Spanish gypsy, will present songs of old Cathay.

Adding interest to the program for Santa Anans, is the fact that Earl Fraser, pianist and composer, has arranged violin obligatos for Mrs. Matthews in several of the ensemble numbers. Also heightening their interest, is the fact that the manager has promised to present the company in a local program shortly after returning from the trip.

Mrs. Herd and Mrs. Ledger will continue their journey from Chicago to New York, and after an extended visit there, will return to California by the Panama canal. Mrs. Matthews will visit friends in Chicago before returning. During her absence her studio and classes will be in charge of Merrill Bauer. Mr. Bauer is one of the most promising of the city's young student violinists.

Gay Spring Flowers Are Setting For Pretty
Party, Shower

A profusion of golden daffodils and stock in lovely pastel tints made a beautiful setting for the pretty shower given by Mrs. G. Russell Fisher at her lovely home on Lyon street as a compliment to Miss Leola Sears whose marriage to Simeon Depra of Pasadena is to be an event of the near future.

Following an entertaining evening of games that was featured by a clever reading, "Courtship Under Difficulties," by Miss Ruby Suman, little Miss Marvella Galbreath, attired as a baker, entered the room driving a small bakery truck that was filled with attractive gifts for the new home Miss Sears is planning.

The color scheme of orchid and yellow expressed in the flowers was carried out in decorating small tables for the dainty supper that was served by the hostess.

Invited guests included Mesdames Rex McGill, Hector Green, William Tibbald, Virgil Todd, Lee Eckley, Thomas Douglas, A. Hunt, John M. Board, R. C. Cochran, J. W. Harris, Fred C. Wahl, E. L. Sears, John Galbreath, G. Russell Fisher; the Misses Fae Parsons, Dorothy Thurston, Dorothy Beckman, Sophie Ehlen, Marie Rudolph, Ruby Suman, Milly Galbreath, Elizabeth Campbell, Louise Bryant, Vena Belle Bryant, Gertrude Jentges, Grace Putterbaugh, Mabel Whitmer, Myrtle Meyer, Hattie Whilden, Ethel Maricle, Phoebe Simpson, Calla Nevius, Amanda Thee and the honoree, Miss Sears.

Guests of Miss Young included Miss Cherrie McRae, Miss Janet Bryton, Miss Nadine Miller, Miss Marjorie Bury, Miss Jane McMurray, Miss Clarice Miller, Miss Frances Grabook, Miss Elsie Meyers, Miss Geraldine Mills, Miss Jean McWharther, Miss Isabel McKenzie, Miss Esther Trueblood, Miss Bernice Bailey, and Mrs. P. J. C. Students Plan
To Attend Ball at Country Club

Students of the Santa Ana junior college are becoming enthused over the biggest event of their social year, the Bachelors ball which is to draw the students to the Santa Ana Country club on Saturday night, at 9 o'clock.

Following the custom of past years, members of the Bachelors club and their guests will gather at the Rose Arbor Inn before the ball for the annual Bachelors banquet. Edwin Gerhardt as toastmaster will call upon the evening's speakers and it is expected that Walter Scott, advisor for the club will review the history of the Bachelors organization. Alumni will also be invited to give short toasts.

The ceremony for the installation of officers is to be the most important event of the banquet program. George Tobias will be installed as grand exalted, Gerald Edwards as senior exalted, Edwin Gerhardt as junior exalted, Rodney Smiley as keeper of the writ, Lawrence Hogue as keeper of the purse, Charles Spotts as member at large, and George Butler as bachelor bouncer.

After leaving the banquet, members of the club and other students of the junior college and alumni will meet at the country club where entertainers and dancing will engage the jolly group until a late hour. The Lushon Boys from U. C. L. A. and the Harmony Boys Trio of Los Angeles who have been heard over the radio are among the entertainers who have been secured for the evening.

Charles Spotts, grand exalted officer for the first part of the year, is arranging the program for the dance.

Original Stories Are
Read at Quill Pen
Meeting

The pretty new home of Miss Pearl Camblin, 911 North Olive street, was the meeting place last evening for Quill Pen members.

Miss Camblin was assisted in her duties as hostess by her mother, Mrs. Mary Camblin, who came to Santa Ana recently to make her home with her daughter.

Original stories were read by several members and in these were included a true story of American pioneers written by Mrs. Maude Goff. Mrs. Goff also read a clever bit of verse inspired by the coming marriage of Lindbergh.

"Bell" was the unique title of a story written by Mrs. Jeanette Wells, who developed the part which tells of all sorts played in the life of a young girl who ran away from the jangle of telephone bells. Miss Verna Wells read a humorous poem that her listeners agreed would find a ready sale.

The verse called "Little Mary's Radio," had a timely and universal appeal. A motion was made and carried that each member should write a story based on a short newspaper clipping and present it at the next meeting. The stories are to be from 1200 to 2000 words in length—and are to be submitted as a prize contest.

Those present were Mesdames J. D. Campbell, Jeannette Wells, Harry M. Smith, J. F. Adams, Blanche Brown, Herman Reuter, R. A. Cushman, J. U. Vau, Maude Goff and Miss Verna Wells and Miss Lucy Agar and Mrs. J. U. Vau and Mrs. J. D. Campbell of Orange, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Camblin.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Fred Conover at Tustin on March 5.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Doris Welles
Mrs. Hannah Douglas reviewed the lesson chapter from the book, "Friends in Africa," at the meeting of the Doris Welles auxiliary of the First Methodist church Monday evening. The group met at the home of Miss May Beamer, 1314 Spurgeon street.

Miss Marjorie Lusk led the devotions and Miss Beamer served tea and heart cookies at the close of the program.

Those present were Miss Gertrude Richardson, president, Miss Esther Coffman, Miss Ethel Coffman, Miss Lorraine French, Miss Esther Henriksen, Miss Marjorie Lusk, Miss Gertrude Lee, Miss Olive and Miss Bertha Briney and Mrs. Hannah Douglas.

Complimented
Mrs. Clifford Chaffee was complimented by members of her Sunday school class of the First Methodist church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Shippe, 693 North Van Ness street, last night.

Miss Lorraine Shippe, daughter of the home, acted as hostesses. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party for Mrs. Chaffee, who has been teaching the young women's class for several months, as she is leaving the church with her husband to join the First Congregational church where Mr. Chaffee will be part time religious educational director.

Among the entertaining games of the evening was that of "Bug," at which Miss Vera Morrison received high score.

With Miss Helen Glancy presiding at the piano, the guests sang popular songs and at a late hour the hostess served refreshments.

Those present were Miss Beulah Dugeson, Miss Helen Glancy, Miss Edna Hearn, Miss Vera Morrison, Miss Florence Aitken, a cousin of the hostess, Miss Frances Schweitzer, Miss Lorraine Shippe and smaller sister, Thelma, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chaffee.

Plans In Readiness
For First Shrine
Hospitality

In launching this year's social program for the Orange County Shrine club, Charles J. Cogan, president, and his social committee have conspired to make tomorrow night's ball at St. Ann's Inn, one of the most colorful and delightful events of the late winter months. At least that was the promise embodied in today's final announcement of the plans, as the general president and his co-workers discussed arrangements.

An innovation in Shrine club affairs was launched by Noble Cogan when he announced that each of the year's social events was to be given under the direction of a group of Shrine wives forming a hostess committee. Mrs. Otto Haan, Mrs. J. M. Cloyes and Mrs. Roy Shafer will constitute the hostesses tomorrow night, co-operating with the president and his aides.

Mrs. Haan as chairman of this little group, has been privileged to enlist the interest of other prominent Shrine wives, who will add in many ways, especially in the foyer of the Inn where bridge tables will be arranged for those who prefer cards to dancing.

Perhaps the most striking feature about the evening's entertainment will be the music, for Leon Renee's orchestra will come from Hollywood for the event. This orchestra is recognized as one of the finest in California. Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

The party will not be confined to members of the Shrine club and their wives, but all Masons and their wives will be given a cordial welcome.

Guests of Miss Eleanor were Virginia Scott, Frances Whitaker, Marvella Galbraith, Jean Allen, Helen Allison, Lois Rohrs, Glennis Stone, Lorene Rogers, Agnes Iby and Iva Lane.

Mrs. Hazel Northcross
Tells of Huntington
Art Galleries

Because members of the Wyrcende Maegden club of the Y. W. C. A. are planning to attend the Huntington Art galleries at San Marino on March 2, it was appropriate that Mrs. Hazel Northcross should tell them last night of the rare portraits, tapestries, rugs, books, miniatures, letters, panels and porcelains to be found there.

Mrs. Northcross told of how the galleries were started in 1908 when the late Henry Huntington purchased one of Raeburn's beautiful paintings. In 1912 he arranged that his wonderful art collection should be thrown open for the enjoyment of the public.

In describing the many portraits in the Huntington collection the speaker mentioned especially Gainsborough's "Blue Boy," the picture that was sold for $750,000, and "Pinky" by Sir Thomas Lawrence, and "Sarah Siddons" by Reynolds.

Mrs. Northcross also gave a brief description of the lovely gardens that surround the galleries.

The Santa Ana Country club was the setting Monday night for a colorful party that was given by Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Ferry of Newport Beach, in honor of Dr. Ferry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferry of Hollywood. The occasion was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the two.

Tables were used in table appointments and the lovely baskets of flowers included daffodils, anemones and sweet peas with maiden hair fern. Covers were placed for the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferry, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Beal, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kistler, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Miss Elizabeth Ferry, granddaughter of the honored guests, also gave several piano numbers.

An especially pleasing feature was a radio program from KFWB that was dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Ferry.

Airplane Motif Adds Charm to Dinner

Miss Geraldine Cole of 618 Cypress avenue, was hostess at a pretty dinner recently when the airplane motif was carried out in the tiny helmeted kiewpies that marked each place and the miniature silver plane that hung from the chandelier. Pink sweet peas and pink candles completed the appointments.

Covers were laid for the charming hostess, Miss Margaret Tedford, Miss Elva Cook, and Miss Phyllis Diedrich.

Following the dinner the quartet attended a local theater.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Beauty Begins Before Birth

When ancient Greece was at the height of her glory it was taught that a splendid body was just as important as a splendid mind. If the Greeks could attain the place they did in world history, with only exercise and their primitive knowledge of medicine to help, this age should far surpass theirs, with preventive medicine and public health measures so close to perfection.

Exercise is highly important, but as a sole method of producing physical beauty it is sadly lacking. The boy said, when asked what the skeleton was for, that it was there to hang meat on. . . bony structure is highly important from the boy's and my standpoint.

The beginning of beauty must start before birth and it lies entirely in the mother's hands whether her baby shall have well-formed straight bones.

Correct diet is most of it, but more tomorrow.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SOFT THICK COOKIES

1-2 cups sugar
1 cup butter
1-3 cup sweet milk
3 eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons baking powder
Flour to mix and roll soft

The making of sauerkraut and home-knit stockings may be out of fashion but the cooky-kray is still going strong, especially when filled with such cookies as the recipe we are discussing today. This came out of the Hope Chest collection and I can guarantee it to be extra good.

A cup of butter is exactly two of the quarter pieces of wrapped butter. Open and cut in pieces and let stand to soften while you do something else. Now—Measure the sugar into a bowl and blend the butter with it to a fluffy cream. Make a depression in the mass and break in an egg, whip it smooth, beating in a little of the creamed mass; repeat for each egg and with the last work in all of the creamed sugar and beat very smooth.

Sift 2 cups of flour twice, add the baking powder and mix alternately with the milk into the mixture; use more flour if necessary. Have it just stiff enough to handle on the board and DO NOT use much flour to roll the cookies, nor roll them too thin. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in medium oven about 15 minutes.

Cookies made from this recipe are compact little bundles of energy food. Each cookie has close to 100 calories to its credit. . . good for children and thin people but dangerous business for the one whose curves are just a little more feminine than Paris calls for this year.

INEXPENSIVE WINTER DINNERS

The Bidding: South bids no-trump and all pass.

Deciding the Play: West leads 2 of spades, which is won by Declarer with Queen of spades. What suit should Declarer now play?

The Error: Declarer plays diamond suit and the game is sacrificed.

The Correct Method: Declarer should first play the heart suit to force Ace of hearts and King of hearts. Opponents will be forced to discard on the next heart trick and they may discard a diamond thereon, with the result that when the diamond suit is thereafter played, four tricks will be made in diamonds. Played in this manner, game must be made. By playing the diamond suit first, Declarer will in all probability make not more than eight tricks.

The Principle: When holding Ace-King-Queen-X in closed hand and X X X in Dummy or vice versa, postpone playing this suit until you have obtained a discard in that suit.

At the Theatres

WEST COAST WALKER

The "Cannon shift" may sound like a football term—but it isn't. The phrase was coined when Raymond Cannon was engaged in making the motion picture, "Let's Make Whoopee" which opened yesterday at the West Coast-Walker theater. The shift was performed by his camera to obviate the necessity of so many dissolves and fadeouts. By its use, the camera "eye" seems to travel from one part of a city to another, and the illusion of seeing two or more scenes at the same time, is effected. A notable smoothness of story continuity is the result.

Conrad Nagel, who is to be depended upon always, for a completely satisfactory performance, has the lead in "Let's Make Whoopee," with June Collyer, Fox Films, featured player, playing opposite. Sharon Lynn and Arthur Stone are included in the cast.

The story is an original by Cannon, who added directing duties to his creative ability.

The picture and its accompanying entertaining vaudeville, will be presented for the final performance tonight.

YOST SPURGEON

The Slaviansky Russian choir that is coming to the Yost Spurgeon theater tonight has probably played to more different nationalities than any other concert company in the world, the latest foreign appearance having been in Japan where a wonderful success was experienced. The choir was invited to Japan as a special entertainment feature of the emperor's coronation ceremony, after which the singers journeyed to Tokyo, where they gave 35 consecutive concerts at the Imperial theater.

Probably the most outstanding feature of their Japanese experiences, was a farewell demonstration upon their departure from Yokohama last month. It was estimated that fully 3,000 admirers gathered at the wharf to see them off and presented them with hundreds of tokens consisting of kimonos, flowers, fruit, silk, fans and over a dozen very beautiful scrolls. Prince Chichibu, heir apparent to the throne, who honored the choir with his presence on three different occasions, sent an official delegation to the ship to thank Madame Slaviansky for the wonderful music that she and her choir brought to Japan and to present her with an elaborate basket of flowers six feet in height and a very old and beautifully engraved scroll.

Students and faculty of the Imperial Conservatory of Music were there 100 percent strong, and as the ship pulled out of the harbor,

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The water that was rushing down out of the locks brought forth a frown upon the friendly Sea Man's face. In fact it made him rave. Those Trouble Tots, thought he, are bad. They think it's real fun they have had. I'd like to stop and spank them, but the Tinies I must save.

Meanwhile, the Tinymites were scared. Cried Clowny, "I hope we'll be spared. This water's almost freezing cold. What makes it rush so fast? Let's try and swim the best we can. I rather think the old Sea Man will shortly try to rescue us. Oh, how long will this last?"

"Don't use your breath to talk like that," said Scouty. "Just try lying flat upon the rushing water. It will help us all to float. We may reach ground not far from here." Then little Coppy cried, "Oh, dear! Why did this have to happen? I just wish we had a boat."

Far from the swimming Tiny crowd the Trouble Tots were laughing loud. They'd caused this queer predicament by opening the locks. One Tot exclaimed, "That trick was smart. We made the Tinymites depart. I only hope that none of them are dashed against the rocks."

By this time Mister Sea Man reached a bit of shore and loudly screeched out to the frightened Tinymites, "I'll help you if I can. I have a rope which I will throw across the stream, down where you'll go. Then you can grab a hold of it." And down the stream he ran.

The rope soon landed with a thump against the rushing water, upon a stump. The Sea Man held the other end and braced against the ground. The Tinymites, now very cold, swam up to it and grabbed ahold. "Hang on," exclaimed the Sea Man, "and you'll be safe and sound."

Court Notes

Asserting that Albert P. Hart has been intertempore to the extent that he has been unable to carry on his business properly at times, Edith Hart today brought suit for divorce against him. Community property valued at $16,550, including an interest in the En-terprise Publishing company, was mentioned in the complaint, which said the couple married in 1921 and separated February 13.

T. J. Wolfe today brought suit against Clayton Severn seeking judgment for $1000 and asserting that Severn had given him a $1000 check on February 13, which a Los Angeles bank, on which it was drawn, refused to pay. Severn has refused to pay the amount, Wolfe declared.

Desertion, nagging, associating with other women and being in-solent to her friends were speci-fied as grounds of divorce today in suit brought by Ethel Murch against Guy Everett Murch. They were married in 1920 and separat-ed February 12, the complaint stated.

An estate valued at $100 was brought into superior court pro-ceedings today when a petition for letters of administration in the estate of the late Henry E. Goff, who died last March, in Vernon, Mo., was filed. The estate here consists of a record title to Orange county property, the peti-tion stated.

EVENING SALUTATION

Faith has an eagle's eye and a lion's heart. It has a lion's heart to bear present evils, and it has an eagle's eye to see future good.

—Robinson.

E. B. COLLIER

Deep regret and keen sorrow spread over Orange county this morning as word went forth that death had come to E. B. Collier. Few men in this county had as many warm friends as did Mr. Collier; few men to whom others looked for advice and counsel as they did to this quiet lovable man. It is to those who were close to Mr. Collier in his business, public and personal relations that his loss comes as the severest blow, yet his loss is a blow to many hundreds of men and women who knew of him only through his long service in the citrus industry and in civic affairs.

We pause to look back upon this good man's career. He began as a poor boy working in a packing house at Tustin. As a young man he answered the call of his country to arms. Later Corona became his home. There by dint of his integrity and capabilities, and especially by that quality in him that caused other people to have confidence in him, he became a packing house manager, a city trustee, mayor, and a state assemblyman. Returning to this county as manager of the world's largest lemon association, he quickly was looked upon as one of the county's most useful citizens. He was selected as a city trustee of Santa Ana, and later became the city's first city manager, which position he filled with distinction. Recently, looking around for a man to direct the destinies of a large and growing citrus association, the Red Fox directors selected Mr. Collier for the important post. And there it was, while still in the harness, that Mr. Collier suffered the illness that brought about his death.

This review points at once to the fact that this man's life was of wide consequence in the communities in which he lived. But at this time we are prone to look not so much to the achievements that were his as a citrus man or as a public official, but rather we remember him as friend and counsellor. We remember the habit he had of getting at the heart of a difficulty. His good judgment was proverbial. When others about him were alarmed or uncertain, quietly and calmly "E. B.", as he was known to many hundreds, kept his head. Always, he was actuated by a desire to be fair and honorable; always, within his heart was a spirit of human sympathy and kindness and tolerance that brought to him the love and admiration to those who today keenly grieve because of his passing.

We remember with appreciation that loyalty was always with him a strong attribute—loyalty to his job, loyalty to his friends and associates, loyalty to his church and family. Pity it is, indeed, that men like Mr. Collier must pass, but thankful, indeed, are we all that he lived among us.

Kansas City reports a mild epidemic of nausea. Maybe the editors had a slow day and ran a Hollywood press agent's story unadulterated.

A VERSATILE INDIVIDUAL

Dr. Frank Dyer, once pastor of the beautiful Wilshire Congregational church in Los Angeles, has become a lecturer for a real estate company.

This is a perfectly honorable work but we believe that the real estate men themselves would urge that this calling is not on a par with that of a preacher and a pastor representing the "Eternal."

This man was a pastor of a church of 900 members in the midst of a community of wealth and culture, with one of the most beautiful church buildings in the city. He is now arguing for sales before a group of people in a purely commercial and highly competitive business.

He lost his church when he was expelled from his relations as a Congregational preacher and through a long and bitter struggle in the courts. This struggle revealed a course of the most personally ambitious conduct, if not worse.

The real estate business will give him scope for whatever business talent and ambition he may have and no doubt bring him the financial rewards he seems to be seeking. But compared with the opportunity he had of doing good and winning a splendid reward in his chosen profession, and in the social esteem of the community, it would seem a bad choice, if choice it was.

But he did not deliberately choose. He entered upon a course of action which seemed to lead to both goals, wealth and material prosperity as well as a position of honor and esteem. These paths do not seem to be parallel, but in most cases are divergent so far as ministers of the gospel are concerned.

It seems at least incongruous for a man to preach on Sunday and on Monday to use even the influence gained by preaching the gospel on Sunday to sell his parishioners real estate. Competitors might look around for a preacher; then where would we be? It must lead to a loss of dignity and respect in both vocations.

A western coach says "athletics are work, not play." Yes, especially football are.

AT SEA IN A BALLOON

The Christian Science Monitor relates that three Germans who ascended in a balloon near Leipzig, found soon after they took the air that they were unable to work the apparatus for releasing the gas and bringing themselves to earth. They were as helpless as Teddy B. and Teddy G., whose balloon adventures were broadcast for the pleasure of youngsters some twenty years ago.

All night the three Germans drifted through the air, over Holland and out over the North Sea. Surely then they must have thought their untimely end was inevitable. There appeared to be nothing to stop their progress unless they encountered a towering iceberg on which they surely would have frozen to death. But the gale carried them toward the snow-covered Cairngorm Mountains of Scotland which struck their balloon to earth. It was a harrowing experience. Probably no homesick son or daughter of Scotland had those mountains as dear as do the three Germans.

WE SUFFER A JOKE

Much has been accomplished along the line of art in advertising. We don't appreciate the beauty of symmetry, for example, of plain commercial ads which we look over every day without a thought to their attractiveness and beauty, because we are absorbed with the service of the ad.

Along one line the artists in the advertising field have achieved the effect of the wax works, where the life-sized and life-like forms of criminals and celebrities are preserved to the terror and interest of visitors to the wax works galleries.

These life-sized card board forms of ladies and gentlemen, attracting us to some purchase, which are now placed in the doorway of some stores, are startling. One pauses to gaze in a store window at some display and becomes aware that someone is rudely staring at one. One resists the impulse to pull the hat straight or get out the vanity to see what may be sufficiently wrong or queer about one's appearance to excite such concentration. Finally, unable to resist reaction any longer, one assembles a terrifically scornful glance and turns toward the person—only to be immediately deflated by looking into the smiling face of a cardboard figure. Then one goes sheepishly on one's way ashamed to admit that he is sufficiently bothered to wish the figures would be declared a public nuisance.

A Chicago judge told a woman alimony plaintiff that the man who loses his home should get compensation rather than pay for the loss. Ladies, what a compliment!

SOME LEGISLATIVE ODDITIES

The Oklahoma legislature has taken time off from impeaching Governor Johnson to pass a law making it a misdemeanor to whisper slander about people. Hereafter they who "report or scatter false rumors of a slanderous nature or a harmful nature" will be liable to a fine of $100 to $500 or from 30 to 120 days in jail.

Now, we think that idle and malicious gossips are deserving of some punishment, but what state is rich enough to build jails numerous enough to accommodate all the people who might be convicted under such a law? A good many of us might become familiar with the inside of prison walls were such a law rigidly enforced. More characters have been assassinated in the dark than were killed in the World War in an equal length of time. An abuse so common as the whispering of scandal and slander can never be reached by a legislative statute. The effort to curb it may be commendable, but we predict it will be wholly futile.

There are only two ways in which scandal can be overcome. The first is never to pay any serious attention to it and the second to rise above it. We can do as a candidate for office did when a scandal was circulated about him. He said, "I know more mean things about myself than they do."

More Motor Cars Need More Highways

Pasadena Star-News

American factories turned out more automobiles in 1928 than in 1927, and the outlook for 1929 is for another new record.

In comparison with domestic sales, the export trade, while of growing importance, is infinitesimal. The truth is that motoring is becoming constantly more general, and the economic use of the motor vehicle is more widespread from year to year. Population, of course, is gaining; and the number of automobiles and motor trucks on the public highways is greater, every day.

Of necessity there must be more roads.

When California gives notice that it is preparing to spend more for boulevards in the next two years than was spent in the past five years, the reason is that the slowing down process during the deadlock caused by sectional controversy makes it imperative that there now be a speeding up. To stand still is to lose the race, no matter what the proposition.

Throughout the country more good roads are being constructed than ever before. Texas has a program that causes California's performances of the past to fade into insignificance. Even backward-looking Kansas now has highway ambitions of a major order.

Highway building and motor car making have been twin causes of American prosperity; and now that the automobile is becoming popular throughout the Latin Republics and in Asiatic countries, there will be further stimulation in factory centers of the United States.

Rubber Substitute Is Mr. Edison's Gift

Pasadena Star-News

A substitute for rubber, which should protect the United States from a rubber monopoly, has been discovered by Thomas A. Edison, according to report seemingly accurate. The venerable wizard of invention has been experimenting for a long time with plants, to find one that would yield something as good as rubber, in commercial quantities. These experiments covered almost 15,000 varieties of plants. The name of the weed was not given in the first report. But it is said that the weed can be mowed like wheat and that it is a perennial and does not have to be planted anew each year. It is said that this weed produces a workable substitute for rubber.

At the age of eighty-two, Mr. Edison is remarkably vigorous in mind and body. The whole civilized world has joined in giving interested attention to the celebration of Mr. Edison's birth anniversary. When the historian of the future compiles the annals of the last fifty years and of the generations that are to follow this one, he will join with the biographer in ascribing much of the world's progress to Thomas Alva Edison. The name of Edison will live when the names of many more spectacular persons, in their day, are forgotten.

Mr. Edison is an inspiring example of a person who refuses to grow old. At eighty-two he is an indefatigable worker. And he is always working to a purpose—to achieve something that will benefit his fellowmen. Should this projected substitute for rubber prove to be practicable, that in itself will be a great economic boon to this country and will foster the marvelous advance in motoring which is in evidence today.

More Truth Than Poetry

BUT THE MEMORY LINGERS STILL

It is authoritatively announced that after March Fourth there will be no longer a White House spokesman.

I always was strong for the speeches he uttered. His language was terse and direct and exact. He never once wavered or stumbled or stuttered. But clearly and carefully stated the fact. His mind was a mine of precise information. He never waxed wordy or grew overwrought. And he always was sure what the administration and the President thought.

He wasted no time in hum-drum digressions. He seemed to be able, with one sweeping glance to view the whole trend of Congressional sessions. And to forecast the state of the nation's finance. He could quash a canard or dispose of a rumor, and deny allegations without getting rough, and he mostly avoided a semblance of humor, which is dangerous stuff.

He would take one behind the political curtain. And the mind boggling problems of statecraft unfold. And reading his words the next day one was certain that he knew quite a little bit more than he told. We never had cause to be troubled or worried. Or to look toward the future with wavering hope. As long as each morning, serene and untroubled, he gave us the dope.

And now, so the tidings this morning betoken. We shortly must lose this mysterious sage. His last telling word far too soon will be spoken. As he bows his farewell to the national stage. In vain to retain him are pleas and beseechings. He will lay down the job, though we like it or not. And the people who used to delight in his teachings will miss him a lot!

APES AND APING

The theory of evolution, that we are allied to apes, has much support in probability.

For the most striking characteristic of the ape is his ability to imitate and the pleasure imitation gives him. So the verb "to ape" means to imitate.

And certainly the most powerful motive among human beings is imitation.

At the very beginning of life we see it. A child learns by aping others.

The process of learning a rule and forming our conduct by it is one that comes only after much schooling, and the vast majority of the race does not employ it at all.

Learning a language is making sounds like those we hear others make. And this is the very best way.

In any culture one example is worth a dozen precepts. What are good manners but doing as our betters do? Civilization itself seems a perfection in apishness, a state wherein all do, say and think alike.

And what are morals but conformity?

And good society, courtliness and being a perfect gentleman or lady mean that outwardly at least we have suppressed all individuality and each of us has become "the mold of fashion and the glass of form."

Speaking of fashion, do not women spend fortunes keeping in style, which, when you come to think of it, means aping their leaders? Consider the billions of dollars spent by the female sex along Fifth Avenue and the Rue de la Paix in the struggle for similar perfection.

And men also dress not according to any intelligent reasons whatever, nor by the fitness of things, but solely that they may be clothed like other men.

And if anyone will not conform, and appears at the opera in his shirt sleeves or comes to church without his breeches, we arrest him.

We hate the person who will not join in our aping. He is a crank or a bit cracked.

"Cinderella," a film starring Mary Pickford, was shown at the Temple theater.

The following advertisement appeared in The Register: For sale—Fine building lot, 50 by 134-1-2, corner North Main and Buffalo streets, bargain at $1475. P. Richards, 638 French street.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce voted to have Secretary J. C. Metzgar request John N. Anderson, state senator, and J. C. Burke, assemblyman, to support the bill calling for the construction of the Los Angeles-to-Imperial highway through San Diego instead of through Riverside.

The Southern Counties Gas company announced it would petition the state railroad commission for an order raising the minimum monthly charge for gas from 50 cents to $1, in its services in Orange county.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE

WHAT DO YOU WANT MOST?

You will never get anywhere till you know where you are going. You will never get anything, till you know what it is you want.

There are many desirable things in this life, all of them difficult of attainment.

Until you decide which of them you want most, and concentrate on getting that, you will have little chance of getting any of them.

I hope that you will decide on something that is really worth having, and which having is really good for you.

I know one man who wanted what he called success and power, and got it.

He worked hard for it, for twenty years I saw him at it.

What he wanted was the authority to boss other men, to surpass them not in achievement, but in the good opinion of the man they were all working for.

To do that he was willing to lie about them, take the credit for their things that they had done, use the confidence that he enjoyed with the big boss to under rate them, and to injure them.

Of course he had real ability, but not enough to succeed by ability alone.

He was afraid of others associated with him if they showed themselves capable.

When he got to a position where he could hire others he chose only those who were servile to him, and servile men are seldom worth anything.

He wanted to make his employer believe that if he left, a whole department would go to smash.

As the employer was an absentee, and only talked to his executive heads about his business, this was comparatively easy.

So the man of whom I speak got what he wanted most.

But while he was getting it he earned both the contempt and the dislike of everybody associated with him.

He gets no work done willingly and no work done really well.

And already he is beginning to feel the effect of this dislike, and trying to gain the affection of those around him.

But he is too late.

He has climbed over their heads and thrust them down. And even his boss has learned enough about him to despise him.

So getting what one wants, though it is not so difficult if one will make sacrifices is not quite so satisfactory as it seems.

I don't know what will be this man's future. But I do know that he will not be satisfied with it.

Real men will pass him, and be more successful, and though he may have enough money to live at ease in his old age, it will be a crabbed and dissatisfied old age, and many people not nearly so well off financially would not trade position with him for all his money.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

WHO DID THAT?

The classroom was tensely silent. It had been rather a trying morning. Class A had been noisy in the corridor and the patrol had sent in a note. Their program in the auditorium had not been of the very best. The solist upon whom the program had depended was absent and the chief speaker had a sore throat and a short memory. The arithmetic lesson had gone badly. Miss Sara had given them a sharp word, a grim look, and ten problems. Hard ones.

"Zip-zoo, tickity tick tick," a couple of pencils ticked tightly with rubber bands sailed into the aisle, did a little jog and staggered under Simmie's seat.

"Who did that?"

Nobody said a word.

"It was done therefore somebody did it. It was done while this class sat before me therefore one of this class did it. WHO did it?"

Nobody said a word.

"Very well. All your Class A's are going to stay in this afternoon until four o'clock and you're ALL going to have five demerits a piece. If you will not keep silence as a class you'll take the consequences as a class." Miss Sara was logical.

Big Bill Hawks rose in his place at the far corner of the room and said, "Sooner than stay in until four o'clock and have the class lose their marks I'll tell you I did it."

"You did not," snapped Miss Sara, her temper fast deserting her.

"But I say I did. What difference does it make? It's settled now and the class needn't stay in until four o'clock."

"You can march yourself to the office and tell Mr. Beech that I don't want to see you again this year."

What Big Bill Hawks said to Mr. Beech I do not know but Mr. Beech told me that he asked him why he said he did that when everybody knew that he had not done it.

"Well, I have to go to work at four o'clock to earn the money that lets me stay in school. If I'm late I lose my job. Then, there are a couple of fellows in the room that have too many demerits this month. If she hands them five more for something they had nothing to do with at all they are out of luck at home and school and a few other places. She wanted a goat and I offered myself."

You can never tell to what lengths a youngster will go to keep things balanced in this world. When you

For a long time the painted sign, "Home Cooking," had hung outside the little restaurant.
